

Market research firm In-Stat this week released a report covering the WiFi segment of the overall realtime location systems (RTLS) market. The firm predicts shipments of WiFi tags will reach almost 2 million in 2010.

Complete Content Not Available in PDF Format See: <http://www.rfidjournal.com/article/view/6467>