

Dairy food producer Daisy Brand began using RFID to comply with Wal-Mart's requirements, but now applies RFID labels to every pallet because multiple enterprise systems depend on RFID data. The company says expanded RFID use has provided positive return on investment and many business benefits.

Complete Content Not Available in PDF Format See: <http://www.rfidjournal.com/article/view/6899>